The whole of his lecture came defendant, and was fined $5 for wilfu may be said to have been an illustration, by facts which cannot be converted, of the truth of this proposition; but perhaps no sample of this proposition; but perhaps no anample Casmar Henkal, who had spent some time which it thinks ought to be instituted.) The was more foreible than that which is contained upon a Chinese for a sovereign, was sent to may another the levelity of these vamiling. Chinese expresses between this and China have in the history of the circumstances connected prison as a rouse and a vagabond, being des action of the British Forces, both in the North and South, negotiations were opened able to provide himself with other accommods between November, 1840 and January, 1841, tion. and a treaty was concluded with Keeshing, ceding Hongkong and agreeing to other conditions for peace. But at the very time this was going on, the Chinese were actively engaged in warlike preparations, and offered rewards for the heads of Captain Ellion, Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary, with whom the negotiations were being carried on; of Commodore Bremen, and of Mr. Monnison. the principal interpreter. This treachery

"carried to a successful issue.

At the present time, this chapter in Chinese history is being repeated with the somewhat striking difference that the cause of the dispute now existing is a wanton, unprovoked, and barbarous outrage on the part of the Chinese against foreigners. In place of inflicting the punishment demanded by the French Charge d'Affaires upon those guilty in the Tientein Massacre, the Mandarine In ve Edward W. Blackwood, a backrup have, secording to their traditional policy, hit upon an expedient to gain time. Capage-How has been despatched to Puris at a moment when it is well known that there is every likelihood of his mission being protracted in consequence of the unfortunate position in which France is now placed. H is to endeavour to keep the French quiet by entering upon negotiations as did Kesserna in the year 1840; and the interval thus gained is to be employed—how? There appears to be very little doubt that Mr. FRANCIS Says: " In-making this troaty, it party was too strong for him." At the present time it is notorious that, though a portion of the officials at Pokin are most anxious. to preserve peace, knowing the strength of foreign nations, there is a powerful antiforeign party in the country who are anxious to push matters to extremes, being infatuated enough to believe that the time has come when they can offer defiance with success. Can it be believed under such circumstances that the yielding attitude which han been! adopted is otherwise than pregnant, with danger to foreign security in the future ?. Up to the present, the Pekin Government has cared more for the threats of the hostile party than for the remonstrances made by the Roreign Ministers. Cap'it be doubted the CHUNG How Mission; which has been sont to gain time, be successful in inducing foreign nations to submit quietly to the outrage which they have suffered, Pekin Government, avowedly incupable of opposing the wishes of the anti-foreign party at the present moment; will be utterly unable to restrain them after they find that their first attack upon foreigners has resulted in the -ringleaders rescaping with rimpunity; and that "by soft words and large promises" they have succeeded in gaining the time necessary to prepare for further hostilities?

The reliability of Chinese policemen, wh left alone, is strikingly illustrated in the i onest reported ti-day, from which it will seen, that a Sergeant Interpreter at Stanle stoutly refused to give evidence in a case, or allow his wife to do so, even if he should be dis missed the force. A HEALTHY LIVER

THE liver is a large gland, lying under the cabort ribe on the right side. It is conver on the upper side and concave on the under, and make. is composed of several lobes or divisions. It office is to secrete bile-that is, to separate it from the blood. It weight about four pounds, being the largest organ in the body. The tendency of long continued heat is to derange the natural action of the liver, and ultimately to produce enlargement, bardening, torpidity, and chronic inflummation of that organ. The symptoms indicating liver disease are as

A sense of fulness and weight in the right side, with some enlargement and pain, par ticularly when pressed; pains in one or both shoulders and under the shoulderblades; disagreeable or rainful feeling whon lying on the loft side; yellowness of the skin, eyes, one urine: bowels irregular, loose, or costive; red veins through the eyes | sometimes a dry backing cough; shortness of breath; a ba taste in the mouth in the morning; the urise deposits a sediment on standing ; generally a low and desponding state of mind; the nervous system much disturbed : disinclination to apply the mind, and frequently a great dread a imagined evils supposed to be impending: We believe that no medicines offered for the cure of liver discase have ever had as extensive a field of successful trial as our
